5 out of 10 !

Finally, Ben Krahl's album « Splendom » is out for purchase online ! If you've been following Seilen's facebook page then you probably already know how you might get your hands on these songs.

Well there you go, you can find it for purchase on iTunes, Amazon, beatport as well as bensburner.com. The official website for Ben Krahl who so kindly featured Seilen on 5 out of 10 songs on his new album.

The coolest thing about it is, that you can name your price for the album on the bensburner website, as opposed to a fixed price. A lot of other artists have found this concept to be a great way for people of all walks of life and with any budget to be able to enjoy their music.

We're in that same state of mind, times are hard ! Later on, we will also have vinyls and Cds made. Don't worry, we'll keep you updated !

Working hard on the new EP

So as you know, we're working hard at the music office to keep you on tab with the information concerning Seilen's upcoming EP.

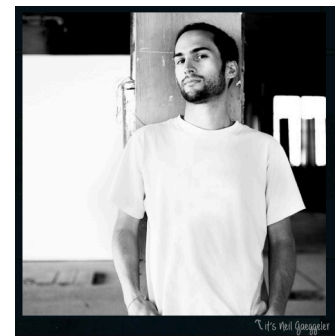

We're very excited to announce that there are some whispers in the air that one of the EP's songs will be feat. Shaypah! If you don't know about this amazing electro producer we've dedicated this section of the newsletter to present him to you.

Shaypah a.k.a Neil Gaeggeler is a producer, vocalist and multi-instrumentalist born in Switzerland.

Inspired by the musical styles of the post-Acid-House era, he produced his first vinyl at 17, and then releases his first album "The Celsius" on Epilpetik Records (France). After many diverse successes, he releases the album "World of Pain" from which 3 songs hit the international scene; WithDk9 (in the game "Full Auto" - SEGA on Xbox), Brain Surgery (in the soundtrack of the movie "Vacuum Killer" and Mordre (in episode 2 - season 3 of "Nip/Tuck" - FOX). In 2011, Shaypah wins the prestigious contest of the Electron

Festival and plays alongside Diplo under the name Cosmic Bastards.

2012 was spent entirely in his studio preparing his new Dubstep/Break Beat/Trapstep album which will come out in 2013!
