

+ Collaboration with DJ Ursa

DJ Ursa a.k.a Jon Tucker is a Missouri native who feels comfortable in front of any instrument or hardware.

Whether it be drums, piano, guitar, bass, an MPC or mixing table. He is simply unafraid to try new things, musically or theoretically.

A New Web band!

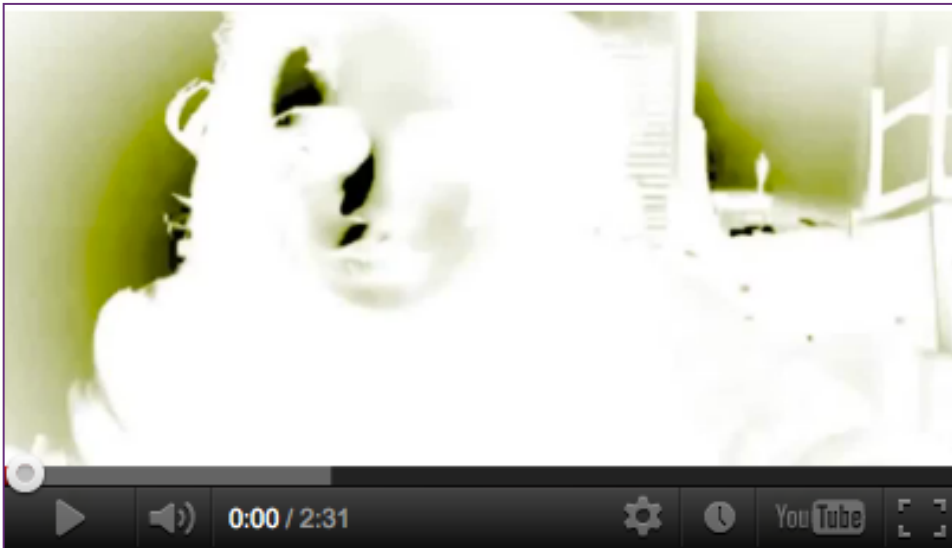

Seilen has been approached by various people for projects throughout the years but this is a first!

After working with one of her producer and friend, Seb Guidetti a.k.a AOS° (Art of Sound), Seilen has been asked to become part of a digital band, a "Webband".

All the musicians forming this band come from the four corners of the world and met online via Soundcloud. They Recorded together digitally, and last weekend got to play together for the first time in person. Magic!

Watch out! AOS° will be putting out an album at the end of the year (2012) and you will be able to hear Seilen's vocal talents on about 8 or more songs.

A special time for our evolution

As you've heard me say before in some of my songs, I feel that this world is taking a turn. No one yet seems to have a clear understanding of what the consequences will be for us in the long-term.

I believe that staying positive is a good way to avoid letting all this uncertainty get the best of us. With "Megalopoly" what I wanted to express what a clear opinion on our modern society, the procedures involved in creating conformity and oppression.

I do not endorse our current occidental lifestyles and though my opinion may be bold and perhaps a bit aggressive, my point gets across.

It's hard to start picturing in our minds what the ideal society would be like. I sometimes even doubt it possible, as I remain overall a realist.

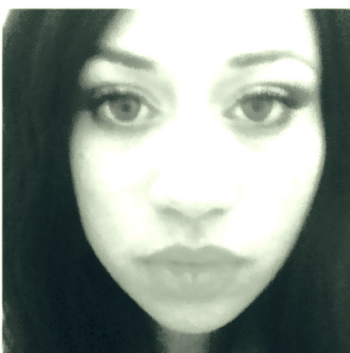

What is sure, however, is that this world needs more love and solidarity, more compassion and open-mindedness.

People can be so quick to judge, without weighing prior, the consequences that it may have on others.

I would like you all to know that I share a common bond with each and everyone of you, for some, it is music, for others, the dream of a sustainable future.

♥ So let's ride the tide together...
Peace & Unity,

Seilen
